Short BIO

Born in a mid-populated city named Biella, his life could be compared to quicksilver: a constant change of thoughts and manners, styles and behaviours, until the approach with photoshop and the world of graphic design changed his entire life: he started spending days and nights improving his skills, thanks to the internet and graphic design forums.

In 2007 he made the decision: graphic design would have been his job, so he attended at IED European Institute of Design in Turin where he graduated in 2010. After that wonderful experience he started working as an intern at Leo Burnett's web division: Arc Worldwide Italia where he learnt to work with important brands like: Fiat Group, Iveco, Fiat Professional and Chrysler.

Nowadays he is just a new worker, heavy dreamer and bold party rocker, ready to face every challenge.
